Go and Do Likewise

We all know the parable of the Good Samaritan as told in Luke 10:30–37. There are two, among many, lessons to learn from this story. First, the Samaritan man comes to the immediate aid of the injured man by providing care and shelter. Secondly, he provides for the man's future needs as well. Both of these acts are examples of care of our “neighbor”. Now most of us will never experience a situation in which there is such an immediacy of need as happening upon an injured person. But many of us can help to provide for future needs of those who are injured or hurting in other ways.

For years Southwood has maintained a Good Samaritan Fund that is used to supply people with financial support in times of need. Recipients of these funds are generally people from the Lincoln area who have financial difficulty due to medical hardship, loss of job or other unexpected life events. Many of the recipients are Southwood members.

When Southwood staff receive a request for assistance they follow a process to determine the extent and reason for the financial support. They then provide an anonymous synopsis of the information to a Good Samaritan Fund committee. This committee then makes the determination of the amount and type of support it is able to provide. Decisions can be difficult. The situations variable. But need is still need.

“Decisions can be difficult. The situations variable. But need is still need.”

Presently our Good Samaritan Fund has a lower balance than it has had in some time. The needs have been great in our community and as a church we should be grateful to be able to support those in need, especially those people who worship alongside us. If you would like to support the Good Samaritan Fund as a way to support those who may need financial assistance now or in the future, please consider making a donation.

3 Tips for Caring Everyday

Adjusting to Change Sending Kids off to College

Whether your child is going off to college for the first time or they are a fifth-year senior, there are ways you can support them through this time of transition.

- ▶ Expect the unexpected and embrace it. They think and do things differently than you. Resist the temptation to try to fix things for them.
- ▶ Always be there to listen, support and encourage. Only give advice when they ask for it, and ask them how you can pray for them.
- ▶ Encourage them to get involved. They can join a new activity, cultivate new friendships, and seek support from other adults.
